COPENHAGEN

THE WORLD'S CHANGED.

Technology now enables us to do so much more, but we can't forget what it is that inspires us to explore.

Whilst celebrating how wonderful technology is, it's also good to lift your eyes away from the screen and truly get under the skin of a place, seeing it through the eyes of a local.

ENCOURAGING CONVERSATIONS,
AND DISCOVERING WHERE THEY WILL TAKE YOU.

COPENHAGEN

Our third instalment takes you to the city of chic, Copenhagen. Experience our own recommendations, whilst starting the conversation and discovering your own favourite hot spots.

Where's the best place to grab a Danish pastry...

Laura's Bakery is the place to go for your quintessential Scandi pick-me-up – the cinnabun. We're talking cinnamon spiced stickiness and melt-in-the-mouth buttery dough. Ask the person behind you in the queue where they like to enjoy their pastry in the Danish sunshine, then go there.

 Blågårdsgade 2A

 Nørrebro

 Nørreport Station

Where's the best place to find a bargain...

For the ultimate steal purchase make a trip to the Acne Archive Store. Here you can enjoy the designer label's iconic Scandi chic and sporty luxe – at a fraction of the cost. Ask an assistant where they like to shop to discover up and coming Danish designers, then go there and have a forage.

 Elmegade 21

 Nørrebro

 Nørreport Station

Where's the best place to snap that postcard-worthy shot...

Camera to hand, take a stroll along Nyhavn, a 17th Century waterfront lined with brightly coloured buildings that are mirrored in the sparkling waters of the canal. Ask someone you pass for the best nearby cafe – then go there to enjoy a coffee whilst soaking up the view.

 Nyhavn

 Kongens Nytorv

Where's the best place to buy Scandi interiors...

We're all pining after that Scandi mid-century furniture, and Dansk Made near the Central Station is the place to buy it. For something a little more practical to carry on the flight home, pick up a Kortkartellet poster for an alternative image of your favourite Copenhagen neighbourhood. Ask the shop assistant where to find the best collection of vintage Danish furnishings, and then go there.

 Istedgade 80

 Kødbyen

 København H (Central Station)

Where's the best place to go for coffee...

For your morning kick-start head to local favourite the Coffee Collective. With one of their three shops being the first open roastery in the city, you can even have a lesson in roasting before you enjoy your fair-trade brew. Ask one of the roasters why they think it is that Denmark is one of the happiest countries in the world – then go about recreating the happiness for yourself.

-  København N
-  Nørrebro Station

Where's the best place to find typography...

With a selection of more than 100 different typefaces and nearly 500 different font weights, Playtype is a store created on the premise of a passion for all things 'type'. From mugs to t-shirts, this quirky shop offers countless souvenirs for you to commemorate your favourite letter. Ask the shop assistant for Copenhagen's best kept secret, then go and discover it.

-  Værnedamsvej 6
-  Frederiksberg C
-  Vesterport Station

Where's the best place to grab a hot drink...

Head to the Mad Hatter Bubble Tea Emporium, Copenhagen's original bubble tea house, for a Scandi twist on this Taiwanese delicacy – our favourite is the hot ginger green tea served with tapioca pearls. Ask the person behind you in the queue where you might be able to find a beautifully illustrated edition of Hans Christian Andersen's fairytales – then go and find one.

-  Sankt Hans Torv 3
-  Nørrebro
-  Nørreport Station

Where's the best place to go for architecture lovers...

Head to the bold colours of urban park Superkilen. Designed by hip Superflex and BIG architects, the red, green, and black park features giant souvenirs from all over the world, representative of the diversity of those living in the surrounding Nørrebro district. Ask a passerby which their favourite souvenir is, then try and find it.

Where's the best place to sample Copenhagen's culinary delights...

A must-visit on the Copenhagen foodie trail, head to indoor market Torvellerne to explore 60-plus stalls selling fresh produce and local delights. Be sure to grab a refreshing rhubarb juice from a stall named Bornholm. Ask the vendor where he likes to go for dinner to enjoy the freshest Nordic fish – then go and check it out.

-  Frederiksborggade 21
-  Indre By
-  Nørreport Station

10

Where's the best place to buy chic homeware...

Just off the city centre you'll find a cosy and light-filled shop known as Keramik og Glasværkstedet, whose window sills, tables, and shelves are lined with beautiful Scandi designed ceramics and glass. Ask the shop assistant where the best place is to learn about modern Danish design, then go there.

-  Kronprinsessegade 43
-  København K
-  Østerport Station

11

Where's the best place to go for craft beer...

Sit back on a comfortable leather chair and enjoy the warmth of the fire with a craft beer at Lidkoeb. Located in a listed and beautifully renovated building in a backyard on Vesterbrogade, this place emanates the laidback vibe that the Nords are famed for. Ask the bartender to serve you his favourite local brew – you won't regret it.

-  Vesterbrogade 72B
-  København V
-  København H (Central Station)

12

Where's the best place to go for a fun afternoon...

For all things fun from crackling fireworks to thrilling rides and gripping live shows head to Tivoli, one of the oldest amusement parks in the world. Ask a fellow reveller where the best place to go is for Danish folk dancing, then go and check it out.

-  Vesterbrogade 3
 -  København V
 -  København H (Central Station)

13

Where's the best place for an art hit...

To feed that culture vulture within you, head to V1 Gallery to explore some of the very best in contemporary Scandinavian art. The first Scandi gallery to show street art by the likes of Banksy and Eine, this is hip Copenhagen at the top of its gallery game. Ask the gallery attendant what his favourite piece of art is on the city streets – then go and take a look.

 Flasketorvet 69 – 71

 Kødbyen

 Dybbølsbro

14

Where's the best place to go to grab breakfast...

Head to Grød in the city's hip Nørrebro neighbourhood for your breakfast fix. Porridge (Grød) is served for breakfast, lunch and dinner with a cool Scandinavian twist – our favourite is the spelt porridge with chestnut puree, apples and toasted almonds. Ask your waiter for their favourite cycle route around the city – then go and find yourself a bike.

 Jægersborggade 50

 Nørrebro

 Nørrebro Station

15

Where's the best place to go for views over the city...

Head to the Round Tower or The Rundetårn as it's called by the locals, a 17th century tower built originally as an astronomical observatory, in the heart of town for unbeatable 360 degree views across the city. Ask a fellow climber how they like to see the city by night, then wait for the sun to set before going to check it out.

 Købmagergade 52A

 Indre By

 Nørreport Station

16

Where's the best place for a cool, laid-back vibe...

Freetown Christiania is Copenhagen's answer to peace and love. Separated from the rest of the city by the inner harbour, this hippy district is all about luscious green spaces and autonomous living. Ask a local Christianian where their favourite open space is, then go and check it out.
